Effects of High Potency THC in Special Populations

with Dr. Brittany Tayler

This session will be a broad overview of marijuana and how it intersects with health. We will delve into the biology and chemistry of the marijuana plant and different modalities of consumption. We will describe the demographics of marijuana usage across the world, U.S., and Michigan and discuss risk factors that can lead to problematic use. Lastly, we will discuss the current evidence for the long-term health implications of marijuana use.

Also featuring Dr. Omayma Alshaarawy

Attendees will:

1. Increase understanding about marijuana and its usage.
2. Discuss evidence surrounding long-term health implications.
3. Recommend resources for those experiencing Cannabis Use Disorder
