Webinar Overview:

Join us for an informative webinar that will explore the critical role health care providers play in identifying, responding to and addressing intimate partner violence (IPV) across the perinatal period.

In this webinar, participants will:

- Gain a deeper understanding of how IPV impacts perinatal health, birth outcomes and maternal mortality.
- Gain insights into how IPV intersects with trauma, substance use, parenting and legal fears.
- Learn practical, trauma informed strategies for universal screening and patient education.
- Explore tools and scripts for safe disclosure, warm handoffs and referral.
- Increase awareness of local resources.

Who should attend?

This webinar is designed for health care providers, including doctors, nurses, midwives, doulas, community health & social workers, home visitors and front office staff.
