WHAT: The 2020 Michigan ACE Initiative Virtual Conference
ACEs & Equity

Our 2019 conference was designed with resilience in mind, in a way that is coordinated, based on science and best practices, and one in which local and state synergies are created. Join us for our virtual conference on November 18th as health care professionals, educators from early childhood to universities, social workers, and representatives from health plans, public health departments, the juvenile justice system, government and community agencies from throughout Michigan come together to discuss the most current information on ACEs and the intersections with equity.

HOW: Registration will be open late September. Watch for other announcements soon on the opening of registration, fees, speakers and continuing education credits for nurses, social workers, health educators and teachers.
