

MEDICAL MARIJUANA SAFE STORAGE

Storing Medical Marijuana Safely

- If you use medical marijuana, it's important to store it safely away from children and pets. Just like any other drug, medication, or household chemical, medical marijuana and edibles must be kept secure and out of reach.
- Safe storage helps ensure that only the certified patient or designated caregiver has access.

Keep Your Medical Marijuana Safe in a Lockbox

- Kids, pets, or even curious visitors can get into medical marijuana if it's not locked up and out of sight. It's always best to keep marijuana in child-resistant packaging and invest in a safe or lockbox to ensure the only person who can get to your medical marijuana is you.
- Call the Poison Control Hotline at 1-800-222-1222 if your child has accidentally eaten marijuana. Call 911 or go to the emergency room right away if your child is not breathing or is unconscious.
- Call the Pet Poison Helpline at 800-213-6680 or call your veterinarian if your pet has accidentally eaten marijuana.

HEALTH & COMMUNITY SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Medical Marijuana Safe Storage Checklist

My Medical Marijuana Is...

- ☐ In a clearly labeled medicinal container
- ☐ In child-resistant packaging or lockbox
- ☐ In the trunk while I am driving
- ☐ In a cool, dark place
In a dry place
- ☐ Away from heat sources

For more information SCAN the above using your smartphone

Lock boxes were funded by the state's Medical Marijuana Operation and Oversight Grant.