

The Narratives for Health Project aims to build transformative narratives that can help shift towards a more equitable world – engaging a wide range of advocates who understand narrative as a form of power. To help create a community of partners, Narratives for Health has a toolkit available: visit the County Health Rankings & Roadmaps site for more info. Find more about the Narratives for Health project here.

Illustration credits: Yolanda Liman & Drawing Change