

WEBINAR

Thriving Childcare: Ensuring Young Children's Well-being and Health During the COVID-19 Pandemic

Katherine Rosenblum, PhD, ABPP

*Professor,
Michigan Medicine,
Department of Psychiatry;
Co-Director, Zero To Thrive*

Andrew Hashikawa, MD

*Associate Professor,
Michigan Medicine,
Department of Pediatric
Emergency Medicine*

Prachi Shah, MD

*Associate Professor,
Michigan Medicine,
Department of Pediatrics -
Developmental/Behavioral*

Mark
Jansen

*Director,
Child Care Licensing Division,
Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA)*

Monday, August 17 from 1:00-2:00pm

Zero to Thrive at Michigan Medicine presents a discussion for childcare providers regarding the recently signed Executive Order \(EO 2020-164\) requiring masks at childcare centers and camps. Wearing a mask is important to prevent the spread of COVID-19, but there are challenges in helping kids with this new reality. Zero To Thrive faculty members will focus on young children's social-emotional needs with masks, the health and safety of masks, and preparing children for wearing masks. A representative from Governor Gretchen Whitmer's office will address the requirements of the recent EO impacting young kids.

Webinar registration: <https://bit.ly/ThrivingChildcare>

Registration is required. Attendees can still register on the event date and once the webinar starts. If you are unable to participate at the scheduled time, this webinar will be recorded and available to view at a later time by visiting <https://zerotothrive.org/mi-children-masks/>