

Region V Public Health Training Center to share about our upcoming live training series: Leading Through Change.

Description: This three-part, discussion-based series will provide an opportunity for governmental public health managers and leaders to build a network of peers and reflect on skills needed to support themselves, their teams, and their partners in navigating leadership transitions. There will be a communication and storytelling focus (Public Narrative: Self, Us, and Now framework), as well as an emphasis on trauma-informed leadership, in order to equip practitioners to effectively lead through change and urgent challenges. Sessions will include a mix of presentations, small-group breakouts, and large-group discussion. The series consists of three 90-minute live sessions, along with asynchronous pre- and post- work.

Session Details: Nov. 1, 15, and 29 from 12-1:30pm ET
Participants are expected to attend all three sessions.

Audience: Mid-level managers and leaders in governmental public health and healthcare, including nurses and public health nurses

Interested individuals can learn more and enroll in the training here: <https://www.mittrainingcenter.org/courses/lcsw1123noce>